Showcase Your Company at the Annual Convergence of Industry Leaders in Commercial Cryptography

Almost 400 commercial cryptography professionals from 25 countries came together last May for the International Cryptographic Module Conference—the industry's leading forum for data security based in commercial encryption. For 2018, we're building on that success with additional events and up-to-the-minute sessions and content and we're continuing our in-depth coverage of cryptographic policies, standards, technologies, implementation, and markets. Reserve your place now at this gathering of professionals who develop, test, certify, specify, procure, and rely on these technologies.

Nine Tracks Cover the Industry

The conference at ICMC includes over 90 presentations in nine tracks:

General Technology: Tools and techniques relating to cryptographic modules

Advanced Technology: High-level technology issues, or special-focus subject matter

Certification Programs: Issues related to the CMVP, government programs and global certification

End-User Experience: CM products, certifications, and vulnerabilities for organizations that rely on crypto security

Open-Source Cryptography: Efforts to audit, improve and certify the security of OS crypto projects

Industry Vertical/Embedded Crypto: The application of embedded encryption in specific industry verticals

Quantum-Ready Crypto: The quantum computing threat and efforts to transition to quantum-safe algorithms

Common Criteria: Issues related to Common Criteria and NIAP-compliant products

Crypto Policy and Ethics: Balancing privacy rights and government access to encrypted information

The International Cryptographic Module Conference is the leading annual event for global expertise in commercial cryptography. At the sixth annual edition of the conference on May 8-11 in Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, 400+ industry leaders from over 25 countries will convene to address the unique challenges faced by those who develop, produce, test, specify, and use cryptographic modules, with a strong focus on standards such as FIPS 140-2, ISO/IEC 19790, and Common Criteria. The conference helps to foster a focused, organized community of users.

ICMC reviews technical issues underlying cryptographic implementation including physical security, key management, side-channel analysis, open-source development, algorithm testing, quantum threats, embedded applications, standardization, validation programs, government policy, professional ethics, and more.

A Unique Promotion Opportunity

Promotion opportunities are available for leading companies offering products, technologies and services in this evolving field. It's a unique opportunity to showcase your company to an engaged and highly responsive audience. The event features an efficient three-day participation format that respects your busy schedule.

Located in a Global Hub

Located at the junction of three rolling rivers and bordering the provinces of Québec and Ontario, Ottawa is one of the world's most beautiful capital cities. The Ottawa Macdonald-Cartier International Airport, just 20 minutes from downtown, provides easy access to points around the globe. Ottawa's Shaw Centre is centrally located adjacent to the historical ByWard Market offering eclectic shops, boutiques and restaurants in historic buildings, secluded courtyards, and bustling streets.

Located in Ottawa's Shaw Centre, with access to the best of the city.

Uniting the Industry Value Chain

Who Attends: ICMC brings together professionals involved with data security based in commercial encryption, especially those who develop, manufacture, test, specify or use certified commercial off the shelf hardware, software, and hybrid cryptographic modules. Key participants include laboratories and government departments responsible for testing cryptographic modules; stakeholders in standards development; leading members of the academic community; embedded systems OEMs; and the side channel research community. Participating federal agencies include CSEC, NIST, NIAP, NSA, DoD, GSA, and others.
